

Broadcast radio needs to be more creative rather than expect protection from satellite radio. Just as broadcast television has had competition from cable television with the result being better and more programming.